

Indiana Veterans' Home Fallen Soldier Statue and Brick Memorial

The Indiana Veteran's Home is home to the largest Fallen Soldier Statue in the United States. Indiana resident Mark Kuszmaul, designed and built the statue as a constant reminder to those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

The brick campaign is an effort to enhance and heighten the awareness of our fallen heroes, that they may be remembered for years to come. We have a special place designated for those Indiana soldiers who have passed since September 11, 2001. We would like to expand the memorial to include friends, loved ones or comrades.

You can contribute to the placement of as many bricks as you wish for only $50.00 per brick which includes the individuals name, rank, branch of service and dates to remember. Bricks will be prepared and installed on a bi-annual basis weather permitting.
